

IFC, Blackpool

On the week-end of June 19-20 Captain Sim participated in the First International Flightsim Convention in Blackpool, UK. 60 exhibitors and 4500 flightsimming fans have participated in this truly international event.

We have seen many new products and took part in training at the seminars and on the exhibitor floor. Captain Sim's new detailed video of Lockheed C-130 Hercules and Captain Sim Story video were premiered at show the very first time.

First of all it was a great opportunity to communicate with many people there. We would like to thank all members of flightsimming community from all parts of the globe for their kind words of gratitude and useful comments.

New Office, Kiev

On the 18th of August 2004 the long-awaited opening of Captain Sim's new office in Kiev, Ukraine, took place. Captain Sim is growing and all new members of team will be working here.

Since many members of our company are closely bounded with aviation, the solemn opening of new office was devoted to the Soviet Air Force Day (the 18th of August).

We hope that the team in the new office will contribute to increase in Captain Sim's productivity and give us a great chance to share new ideas and serve our customer's needs better.
